ROYAL CANARY
CORPORATION

PRIVATE & CONFIDENTIAL · APRIL 2026

Nguyen Dang Quang
A Request for a Private Meeting

For the attention of Mr. Vladislav Doronin

This document introduces Dr. Nguyen Dang Quang, Founder and Group Chairman of Royal Canary Corporation, and sets out the basis for a long-term strategic partnership between RCC and Aman Group.

Nguyen Dang Quang
Founder & Group Chairman

ROYAL CANARY CORPORATION · VIETNAM

Dr. Nguyen Dang Quang (born 1963, Vietnam) is one of Southeast Asia's most consequential long-horizon capital allocators. Educated in Moscow — MBA from Plekhanov Russian University of Economics, Doctorate from the National Academy of Sciences of Belarus — he returned to Vietnam in the early 1990s and built two of the country's defining financial institutions from the ground up.

In 1993, he co-invested in Techcombank — today Vietnam's second-largest private bank by assets, listed on HoSE with a market capitalisation exceeding USD 6 billion. In 2004, he co-founded Masan Group — now Vietnam's largest consumer and retail conglomerate with FY2024 revenue of USD 3.3 billion spanning consumer goods, modern retail, natural resources, and financial services. Forbes lists him on the 2025 Billionaires list at approximately USD 1.1 billion.

He builds for decades. He does not trade positions.

$3.3B
FY2024 MASAN REVENUE
Vietnam's largest consumer platform

$6B+
TECHCOMBANK MARKET CAP
Vietnam's 2nd largest private bank

30+
YEARS HOLDING CORE POSITIONS
No exits. No fund cycles.

ROYAL CANARY CORPORATION

Beyond Masan, Dr. Quang controls Royal Canary Corporation (RCC) — a privately held hospitality developer and investment holding company with an explicit UHNW positioning across every asset it develops and acquires.

RCC's current portfolio is anchored by Le Meridien Saigon — a mixed-use tower at Riverbank Place, District 1, Ho Chi Minh City, comprising 305 hotel keys and 13,972 sqm of Grade A waterfront office space on the most coveted address in Vietnam. The company is actively building an M&A and development pipeline across Hạ Long Bay, Phú Quốc, Continental Europe, and key gateway cities across Asia — every asset developed with the same conviction: scarcity, privacy, and irreplaceable location.

THE PROPOSAL

Dr. Quang is not approaching Aman as an admirer of the brand. He is approaching as a capital partner who recognises that the strategic alignment between RCC's pipeline and Aman's expansion thesis creates a compounding opportunity that neither party can replicate independently.

He is seeking a long-term strategic partnership with Aman Group — across existing properties and the upcoming development pipeline — structured as a principal-to-principal relationship between two builders who operate on the same time horizon.

THE REQUEST

Dr. Nguyen Dang Quang would welcome the opportunity for a private meeting with Mr. Vladislav Doronin — at a time and location of Mr. Doronin's choosing — to explore the basis for a long-term strategic partnership between RCC and Aman Group.

Bach Tran · Deputy CEO, Royal Canary Corporation
To arrange a meeting, please contact via the address provided separately.

A Builder's Track Record

Techcombank · Masan Group · 1993–2025

HOW DR. QUANG COMPOUNDS CAPITAL THROUGH STRATEGIC ACQUISITION

Every great position Dr. Quang has built began with a private conviction that a category was structurally mispriced — and that the missing ingredient was not capital alone, but the right operating framework and the patience to let it compound. The record below documents that thesis in practice.

TECHCOMBANK — THE ORIGINAL POSITION (1993–PRESENT)

In 1993, at the age of 30, Dr. Quang co-invested in Techcombank when Vietnam's banking sector had no public benchmarks and the Đổi Mới reforms were just beginning. He held through every cycle — Asian financial crisis, the 2008 global recession, COVID — never wavering from the original conviction.

1993
YEAR OF INVESTMENT
Early-stage, private, no comps

$370M
WARBURG PINCUS (2018)
Pre-IPO validation

$900M+
IPO RAISE — HOSE 2018
Largest Vietnamese bank IPO

MASAN GROUP — THE M&A PLATFORM (2004–2025)

At the 2023 Vietnam M&A Forum, Masan Group was officially recognised as Vietnam's enterprise with the most typical M&A strategy across the period 2009–2023. The following transactions document why.

YEAR	TRANSACTION	SIZE	OUTCOME
2010	Nui Phao Mine — Distressed acquisition of world's largest tungsten	Undisclosed	Became world's largest tungsten mine. Core of Masan High-Tech Materials.
FY2024 Consolidated Revenue		USD 3.3 billion — Consumer · Retail · Resources · Financial Services

YEAR	TRANSACTION	SIZE	OUTCOME
	deposit when prior owner ran out of capital
2011	KKR invests USD 159M for 10% of Masan Consumer — Vietnam's largest private equity deal at the time	$159M	International validation. Market leader in fish sauce, noodles, chilli sauce.
2019	VinCommerce + VinEco from Vingroup — 2,500+ stores acquired as Vingroup exited non-core assets	Asset swap	Renamed WinCommerce. Now 3,600+ stores. Vietnam's largest modern retail network. Voted #1 deal 2009–2023.
2021	Phuc Long Coffee & Tea — 85% controlling stake in Vietnam's premium F&B chain	~$110M	800+ kiosks inside WinMart. Double-digit revenue growth annually.
2022	SK Group (Korea) strategic partnership — capital and distribution for SEA expansion	$340M	Active cross-border technology and distribution partnerships.
FY2024 Consolidated Revenue		USD 3.3 billion — Consumer · Retail · Resources · Financial Services

THE REPEATING FRAMEWORK

Reviewed in sequence, these transactions reveal a single framework applied consistently across every category Dr. Quang enters:

Acquire at moments of category mispricing. Nui Phao when its owner ran out of capital. VinCommerce when Vingroup needed to exit. Phuc Long before premium F&B reached full market pricing. The entry point is always chosen for structural advantage, not momentum.

Attract world-class operating partners. KKR, Warburg Pincus, SK Group, and Alibaba have each entered at various stages of the Masan platform. These are not exits — they are strategic validations that bring technology, distribution, and global credibility to each business unit.

Hold the position. Dr. Quang has not sold his core Masan or Techcombank stakes in over twenty years. He operates on a generational time horizon.

> Every great position Dr. Quang has built began with a private conversation between principals who recognised, before the market did, that they were looking at the same opportunity.

RCC — INTERNAL STRATEGIC NOTE · APRIL 2026

The next application of this framework is Royal Canary Corporation's hospitality and real estate platform — and the missing piece is the world's most disciplined luxury hospitality brand as a long-term strategic partner. That is why Dr. Quang is requesting this conversation.